

An increase in the proportion of our publications that are co-authored with external international or industry partners

UQ's target to be ranked within the top 4 in the Go8 for the percentage of publications with an external international co-author was achieved.

From 2016 to October 2021, UQ's international co-publications proportion increased from 53 to 63.6 per cent, reflecting the University's growing emphasis on global partnering. This indicator is sourced from InCites and is based on the proportion of an institution's publications that have an
